

Her Bright Smile Haunts Me Still

W. T. Wrighton, J.E. Carpenter, 1864

It's been a year since last we met

C F G C G
We may never meet again

C F
I have struggled to forget

C G C
But the struggle was in vain.

F G Am
For her voice lives on the breeze

C G Am
Her spirit comes at will,

F G Am
In the midnight on the seas

C G Am
Her bright smile haunts me still.

C F
In the midnight on the seas

C G
Her bright smile haunts me
C
still.

I have sailed a falling sky
And I've charted hazard's path
I have seen the storm arise
Like a giant in his wrath
Every danger I have known
That a reckless life can fill
Though her presence is now flown
Her bright smile haunts me still

Though her presence is now flown

Her bright smile haunts me
still

At the first sweet dawn of light
When I gaze upon the deep,
Her form still greets my sight
While the stars their vigils keep.
When I close my aching eyes
Sweet dreams my memory fill
And from sleep when I arise
Her bright smile haunts me still.

And from sleep when I arise
Her bright smile haunts me
still.
