

Here Today

Laurie Lewis, Scott Huffman

C F C
I've had my share of good times
F C
The taste of love, the kiss of wine
F C
I must have played a thousand tunes
F C
From town to town in crowded rooms

F C
And I've tried to stand up and be strong
F G
I've tried to help my friends along
C--F C
And when I'm gone, they'll weep for me
F C
But I'll be a fading memory
C F C
We're here today, and then we're gone
G C
This life will end just like a song
F C
We only have this little time
G F C
So come and let our voices 'twine

Perhaps you'll find some souvenir
Among the things I've gathered here
A little tune, a happy rhyme
To recall these fleeting times

Every once in a while
You might think of me and smile
You'll hum a tune we used to know
Back before I had to go

Chorus

People cheat, they steal and lie
They bleed the earth, they foul the sky
I've tried to walk the path that winds
And leave just these few tunes behind

So when you hear the night bird cry
Won't you think of me and sigh
And when the wind sings through the trees
Won't you sometimes think of me?

Chorus
